RE: Analysis of Cash-on-hand in Texas Legislative Races

Attached for your review is a side-by-side report of cash-on-hand amounts for all Republican and Democrat candidates for the Texas House and Texas Senate as of the July 2006 Semi-Annual Texas Ethics Commission (TEC) filing.

The report is based on cash-on-hand data obtained from the Texas Ethics Commission website, and a side-by-side list of candidates obtained from the Secretary of State of Texas website downloaded on August 2, 2006.

The final report was audited against the original website data and corrections were made. However, additional errors may exist in the original website data and other data, and in some cases an incorrect committee may have been selected when more than one exists for a filer. TEC records did not show cash-on-hand for some candidates.

John Doner & Associates offers the following observations regarding the strength in terms of cash-on-hand of Republican and Democrat candidates, as we begin to approach the general election:

- 118 Republican legislative showed a total of $14,558,495.18 cash-on-hand on their July 2006 Semi-Annual TEC reports, an average of $123,377.08 per candidate. Note:
- 121 Democrat legislative candidates showed a total of $9,155,030.67 cash-on-hand on their July reports, an average of $75,661.41 per candidate.
- 81 Republicans with opponents showed a total of $6,101,633.52 cash-on-hand, an average of $75,328.81 per candidate.
- 78 Democrats with opponents showed a total of $5,211,141.73 cash-on-hand, an average of $66,809.51 per candidate.

At this stage, Republicans lead Democrats significantly in cash-on-hand among ALL legislative candidates filing TEC reports. However, the two parties are closely matched overall when considering only candidates with opponents.
